Her artistic and sensitive eye turns every captured moment into something truly unique and unforgettable.

But Mariana is more than just a talented photographer—she's a passionate artist who expresses herself through many forms of art.

She brings to mind the world of romantic films, where the main character stands out not just for her beauty, but for a unique light that shines from within. That inner glow, combined with her artistic sensitivity, is present in every shot, turning each image into a true work of art.

Specializing in fine art photography, Mariana creates images that not only capture precious moments but also give them an elegant, emotional touch. Her love for art runs deep—it's been part of her life since childhood. She spent her childhood immersed in the arts—drawing, painting, dancing ballet, and playing piano. In 2008, she took this creative foundation further by beginning a bachelor's degree in Fashion and Photography in São Paulo.
